ASSESSMENT OF NEEDS

Rapid advances in HIV disease management require the ongoing attention of practitioners involved in HIV medicine. This course will address the implications of new information on strategies for clinical management. Information will be presented through a mix of didactic lectures and clinically relevant cases developed by an expert faculty of HIV/AIDS clinicians and researchers.

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Information regarding financial relationships with commercial companies that have interests in the content discussed, is obtained from all parties with control over the activity content (ie, co-chairs, faculty, and IAS-USA staff), and any conflicts of interest of those parties are resolved prior to the activity being delivered. Financial affiliations of all those parties are published in the course syllabus.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the course, participants will be able to:

- Describe the current potential for HIV eradication
- Describe current data on HIV treatment as prevention
- Design antiretroviral strategies that consider current data on initiating therapy
- Explain the key clinical concerns associated with bone disease and vitamin D deficiency in HIV-infected patients
- Screen HIV-infected patients for non-AIDS-related malignancies
- Formulate appropriate management strategies for HIV and viral coinfections

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

This course is designed for physicians and other clinical decision makers who are actively involved in the medical care of people with HIV/AIDS, specifically those who:

- Have a solid, working knowledge of HIV disease management
- Provide comprehensive or specialty care for patients with HIV/AIDS
- Are currently active in HIV/AIDS research

This course is relevant for practitioners who are involved in HIV/AIDS patient care, including nurse practitioners and other nursing professionals, physician assistants, pharmacists, and others.

Representatives and employees of commercial companies (pharmaceutical, diagnostic, medical products, advertising, insurance, investment, communications firms, etc) must contact the International AIDS Society–USA regarding registration procedures.

CME ACCREDITATION

The International AIDS Society–USA is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to sponsor continuing medical education for physicians.

CREDIT DESIGNATION

The International AIDS Society–USA designates this educational activity for a maximum of 5.75 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

NOTE: Nursing continuing education credits will not be provided for this course, however nurse practitioners and other nursing professionals will receive a certificate of attendance.

REGISTRATION

You can register online with secure credit card payment at www.iasusa.org or mail or fax a completed registration form and payment. The registration fee is $65 on or before September 14, and will increase to $85 after September 14.
